

LIBRARY WILL EXTEND DRIVE; REMODEL JAIL

Directors of the Adams County Free Library Friday evening at their August meeting approved plans for extension of the building fund drive throughout the county in September and October, heard a report on progress with the remodeling of the former jail building as a permanent library home and took steps to have a full-time librarian not later than January 1.

The position of full-time librarian will be offered to Miss Anna Farran who has been serving since last October 1 on a part time basis in both Adams and Franklin counties. The personnel and budget committees of the Adams county library will discuss terms with Miss Farran.

The county board explained that while the joint arrangement with Franklin county was "a life saver" for both counties at the time it was arranged, this county with its building fund campaign, occupation of permanent quarters and the hope of expanding services now needs a full time trained librarian to direct its work.

Working On Former Jail
O. H. Benson, chairman of the building fund committee, said that to date donations totaling $2,547.50 have been received from Gettysburg from the appeal made in July. While the drive here is formally closed some local organizations are planning early action on the July appeal.

Mr. Benson secured board approval of a plan for naming co-chairmen to help with the drive in the remainder of the county in the fall. The library hopes to raise funds to pay for its $9,000 home and finance immediate repair work there.

News Collected At Random

We acknowledge with thanks the following interesting letter on the Adams County Free Library from Mrs. Rita Wayburn, Star Route, Biglerville:

"I have been watching with great interest the progress of the Library Fund. This is a project that can belong to every person living in Adams county. Many of us will not be in a position to be on the 'large donor' list, but we all can give a 'mite.' This mite list, added together, can amount to a sizeable sum and I hope that those that have a little will not be ashamed to give $1.00 or even 50c."

"You had an article in the paper sometime ago about the Boston man who gave such a large donation to the Boston Public Library. I think you should have stressed the fact that this poor Italian boy amassed his fortune BECAUSE he had the facilities of a free library. When he made the presentation of the check he stressed the importance of the library played in his success. He was grateful and he wanted to help others who might be in like circumstances."

"The library is a wonderful possession of any county. The six year old finds the magic pages of fantasy, winging him far away from his every-day world. The student finds the extra information that make his work papers better than average. The adult finds quiet perusal and satisfaction. I certainly hope every county gets behind their library. Who knows, perhaps some day, because they did, another poor boy will amass a fortune."

"However, if that does not happen, one of America's greatest fortunes lies within the reach of every book within the pages of every finger, from six to sixty."

Peacetime Battle For Freedom

This is the third in a series of five articles on the subject of socialized medicine sponsored by the Adams County Medical Society.

"Future wars will be fought to conquer the minds of men!" These words were set down on paper two years ago by the writer in reference to Communistic infiltration in this country. They apply today with regard to the war being fought within our own borders on the issue of government medicine. The weapons in this war are words, and the commanding generals are President Harry Truman and Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing on one side, the leaders of American medicine and 40 great national organizations on the defending side.

We heard once that in football the best defense is a good offense. History proves that most frequently the right side is the defensive side. Today we are fighting a momentous battle against the forces of Socialism in order to defend our American Way of Life. We use that expression advisedly, because "the American Way of Life" has been kicked around a good bit of late. Proponents of so-

Little Boy Tried In Vain To Save His Brother's Life

An almost successful attempt to rescue Dale Wagner, six-year-old Biglerville R. 2 boy who drowned Thursday near Arendtsville, was made by Dale's brother, Harvey, 9, it was revealed today.

Raymond Wagner, Jr., 21, brother of both boys, said that Harvey told him that he had been wading along the bank of the pond when Dale swam too far from shore and sank in eight feet of water.

Harvey, who is able to swim, went to his brother's rescue and Dale grabbed Harvey's foot. Harvey, however, was unable to swim well enough to pull his brother out and had to swim back to shore to save himself.

Harvey said he, another brother, Marlin, aged 4, and Richard Stull, aged 8, were with Dale when he disappeared under the water. Harvey was wading along the bank and Richard Stull and Marlin were seated on the bank of the pond when Dale swam into the deeper water. Harvey told his brother, Raymond,

Republicans Make Slight Gain In Registrations; Democratic Total Same As In Fall Of '48

Republicans in Adams county have increased their edge over the Democrats by 20 since last November's election, registration figures released today by the Adams county commissioners revealed.

The Democratic total—after new registrations, cancellations by death and removal or failure to vote for the last two years—remains exactly the same as it did for the election last November, 7,759.

The Republicans showed a net gain of 20, their total climbing from 9,879 last November to 9,899 this month.

There was only a small net increase in total registrations in the county—including the non-partisan voters and members of minor parties—which climbed from 17,665 last fall to 17,880 at present.

The commissioners' office disclosed that approximately 1,200 names of inactive voters were purged from the registration lists in the last few months. Some were removed because of death, moving from the county, duplication of registration, but the largest number was taken off the list because they had failed to vote at any election in the last two years. Before the names were stricken off the lists, notices were sent to the voters warning them that their names would be taken off unless they asked reinstatement. Some replied but others did not.

In the special registration period conducted last month, Democrats topped the Republicans but the final figures showed the Democratic party total unchanged from last fall.

County officials said this is the first time since the present registration law has been in force that a major party's total remains unchanged from one election to the next.

A complete table of the registered voters in all voting districts of the county follows:

Lincoln Was First American To Have Portrait On U.S. Coin

Forty years ago, Abraham Lincoln became the first American to have his portrait appear on a coin of the United States. Dr. Louis A. Warren, historian of The Lincoln National Life Insurance company, stated today. It was in August, 1909, during the one hundredth anniversary of Lincoln's birth that the Lincoln one-cent piece was put in circulation, he said.

The head of Lincoln was placed on the penny only after much opposition. Sentiment had been decidedly against the use of portraits of public men on coins of the land. Dr. Warren recalled that one editorial writer had commented, "No president, with the possible exception of Washington, occupies any such relation to the American people as justifies his being memorialized on our coins." It was largely through the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt, who was then president, that the necessary legislation was enacted to authorize the new coin. The inscription, "In God We Trust," which had not been used on the one-cent piece previously, was appropriately inscribed on the Lincoln penny. The law first authorizing the use of this motto on American money had been passed only a month and a half before Lincoln's assassination. Another coincidence is found in the fact that the first bronze penny came from the mint in 1864 while Abraham Lincoln was president.

22 'FRESH AIR' KIDDIES ARRIVE HERE ON FRIDAY

Twenty-two "Fresh Air" youngsters from New York city arrived here Friday afternoon to begin two weeks' vacations with countians on farms and homes throughout the county.

It was a renewal of old friendships for some of the youngsters, who came back for "repeat engagements" with the countians with whom they stayed last summer and who asked that the same children be sent to stay with them again.

For one youngster, it marked the third year that he has left New York to spend his summer vacation in Adams county. Twelve year old Robert Whalen came back for the third year to visit with Mrs. Louise Hoffman, of Gettysburg R. 5.

Aged Five Years And Up
With ages ranging down to five years, the youngsters, selected through the New York Herald Tribune "Friendly town" program, seemed happy to be out of the city and eager to spend their time here. They greeted their hosts and hostesses for the two week period with friendliness and most immediately began to look over Gettysburg, from the vantage point of the Hotel Gettysburg where the hosts had gathered.

They arrived at Harrisburg at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon and arrived here from 5 o'clock to 5:30, after having been engaged in drinking a few soft drinks and tasting Pennsylvania ice cream en route.

Mrs. Raymond P. Sheely, Mrs. Wilmer E. Roth, Mrs. John D. Teeter, Mrs. Charles A. Sloot and Mrs. Robert Derck provided the cars for the trip from Harrisburg.

Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, member of the committee and acting as chairman in the absence of Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, telephoned the New York Herald Tribune this morning to ascertain why three girls, who had been offered vacations here, did not arrive.

Mrs. Scharf was told that the demand for girls this year for the summer vacations was so great that it was impossible to fill all the requests.

Most To Leave August 19
The youngsters, for the most part, will return in two weeks but not two boys, Richard Lowe and Ronald Lowe, who are spending another season with the same hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hare, Fairfield R. 1, and will stay for a month.

The others will leave from Harrisburg at 7:45 o'clock on the morning of August 19.

The hosts and the youngsters staying with them include: Mrs. Timothy E. Farrell, Gettysburg R. 1, Elba Salos; Ellis G. Starnes, Gettysburg R. 5, Arlene Coolidge; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Straley, Littlestown R. 2, Laurence Daw and Harold Bliven; Mrs. Hobbs Crouse, Gettysburg R. 1, Wilda Class and Larry Sather; (Please Turn to Page 2)

More Than 200 Reported Killed In Quakes In Ecuador

Quito, Ecuador, Aug. 6 (UP)—Rescue parties reported today that more than 200 persons were killed in a series of sharp earthquakes that shattered at least a dozen populous mountain cities and towns yesterday afternoon.

Ambato, a provincial capital of 50,000 population 55 miles south of Quito, reported 200 dead in the one city. Scattered reports from other areas cut off by wrecked bridges and telephone lines indicated the death toll would rise much higher.

Centuries-old cathedral towers were shaken down, a military barracks collapsed on conscripts and in one area a train was derailed.

An eyewitness broadcasting from Ambato said many of the dead were children who were studying their catechism in the cathedral when the quake knocked over the stone structure.

LIBRARY WILL EXTEND DRIVE; REMODEL JAIL

Directors of the Adams County Free Library Friday evening at their August meeting approved plans for extension of the building fund drive throughout the county in September and October, heard a report on progress with the remodeling of the former jail building as a permanent library home and took steps to have a full-time librarian not later than January 1.

The position of full-time librarian will be offered to Miss Anna Farran who has been serving since last October 1 on a part time basis in both Adams and Franklin counties. The personnel and budget committees of the Adams county library will discuss terms with Miss Farran.

The county board explained that while the joint arrangement with Franklin county was "a life saver" for both counties at the time it was arranged, this county with its building fund campaign, occupation of permanent quarters and the hope of expanding services now needs a full time trained librarian to direct its work.

Working On Former Jail
O. H. Benson, chairman of the building fund committee, said that to date donations totaling $2,547.50 have been received from Gettysburg from the appeal made in July. While the drive here is formally closed some local organizations are planning early action on the July appeal.

Mr. Benson secured board approval of a plan for naming co-chairmen to help with the drive in the remainder of the county in the fall. The library hopes to raise funds to pay for its $9,000 home and finance immediate repair work there.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

We acknowledge with thanks the following interesting letter on the Adams County Free Library from Mrs. Rita Wayburn, Star Route, Biglerville.

"I have been watching with great interest the progress of the Library Fund. This is a project that can belong to every person living in Adams county. Many of us will not be in a position to be on the "large donor" list, but we all can give a "mite." This mite list, added together, can amount to a sizeable sum and I hope that those that have a little will not be ashamed to give $1.00 or even .50c."

"You had an article in the paper sometime ago about the Boston man who gave such a large donation to the Boston Public Library. I think you should have stressed the fact that this poor Italian boy amassed his fortune BECAUSE he had the facilities of a free library. When he made the presentation of the check he stressed the important part the library played in his success. He was grateful and he wanted to help others who might be in like circumstances."

"The library is a wonderful possession of any county. The six year old finds the magic pages of fantasy, winging him far away from his every-day world. The student finds the extra information that make his work papers better than average. The adult finds quiet perusal and satisfaction. I certainly hope every county gets behind the library. Who knows, perhaps some day, because they did, another poor boy will amass a fortune."

However, if that does not happen, one of Adams' greatest fortunes lies within the pages of every book, within the reach of every finger, from six to sixty."

INSURANCE TAX PAYMENTS SENT TO COUNTY UNITS

Auditor General Weldon B. Heyburn announced today that he has approved payments totaling $428,837.77 to Firemen's Relief Fund Associations in nine counties.

The money is forwarded to the treasurer of the municipality, who turns it over to the Relief Association of the fire companies or fire department, paid or volunteer, serving that community, and which are duly recognized by the councils, commissioners or supervisors, as the case may be, of the various cities, boroughs and townships.

Peacetime Battle For Freedom

This is the third in a series of five articles on the subject of socialized medicine sponsored by the Adams County Medical Society.

"Future wars will be fought to conquer the minds of men!" These words were set down on paper two years ago by the writer in reference to Communistic infiltration in this country. They apply today with regard to the war being fought within our own borders on the issue of government medicine. The weapons in this war are words, and the commanding generals are President Harry Truman and Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing on one side, the leaders of American medicine and 40 great national organizations on the defensive side.

We heard once that in football the best offense is a good defense. History proves that most frequently the right side is the defensive side. Today we are fighting a momentous battle against the forces of Socialism in order to defend our American Way of Life. We use that expression advisedly, because "the American Way of Life" has been kicked around a good bit of late. Proponents of so-

Little Boy Tried In Vain To Save His Brother's Life

An almost successful attempt to rescue Dale Wagner, six-year-old Biglerville R. 2 boy who drowned Thursday near Arendtsville, was made by Dale's brother, Harvey, 9, it was revealed today.

Raymond Wagner, Jr., 21, brother of both boys, said that Harvey told him that he had been wading along the bank of the pond when Dale swam too far from shore and sank in eight feet of water.

Harvey, who is able to swim, went to his brother's rescue and Dale grabbed Harvey's foot. Harvey, however, was unable to swim well enough to pull his brother out and had to swim back to shore to save himself.

Harvey said he, another brother, Marlin, aged 4, and Richard Stull, aged 8, were with Dale when he disappeared under the water. Harvey was wading along the bank and Richard Stull and Marlin were seated on the bank of the pond when Dale swam into the deeper water. Harvey told his brother, Raymond,

Republicans Make Slight Gain In Registrations; Democratic Total Same As In Fall Of '48

Republicans in Adams county have increased their edge over the Democrats by 20 since last November's election, registration figures released today by the Adams county commissioners revealed.

The Democratic total—after new registrations, cancellations by death and removal or failure to vote for the last two years—remains exactly the same as it did for the election last November, 7,759.

The Republicans showed a net gain of 20, their total climbing from 9,879 last November to 9,899 this month.

There was only a small net increase in total registrations in the county—including the non-partisan voters and members of minor parties—which climbed from 17,665 last fall to 17,880 at present.

The commissioners' office disclosed that approximately 1,200 names of inactive voters were purged from the registration lists in the last few months. Some were removed because of death, moving from the county, duplication of registration, but the largest number was taken off the list because they had failed to vote at any election in the last two years. Before the names were stricken off the lists, notices were sent to the voters warning them that their names would be taken off unless they asked reinstatement. Some replied but others did not.

In the special registration period conducted last month, Democrats topped the Republicans but the final figures showed the Democratic party total unchanged from last fall.

County officials said this is the first time since the present registration law has been in force that a major party's total remains unchanged from one election to the next.

A complete table of the registered voters in all voting districts of the county follows:

Lincoln Was First American To Have Portrait On U.S. Coin

Forty years ago, Abraham Lincoln became the first American to have his portrait appear on a coin of the United States. Dr. Louis A. Warren, historian of The Lincoln National Life Insurance company, stated today. It was in August, 1909, during the one hundredth anniversary of Lincoln's birth that the Lincoln one-cent piece was put in circulation, he said.

The head of Lincoln was placed on the penny only after much opposition. Sentiment had been decidedly against the use of portraits of public men on coins of the land. Dr. Warren recalled that one editorial writer had commented, "No president, with the possible exception of Washington, occupies any such relation to the American people as justifies his being memorialized on our coins." It was largely through the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt, who was then president, that the necessary legislation was enacted to authorize the new coin.

The inscription, "In God We Trust," which had not been used on the one-cent piece previously, was appropriately inscribed on the Lincoln penny. The law first authorizing the use of this motto on American money had been passed only a month and a half before Lincoln's assassination. Another coincidence is found in the fact that the first bronze penny came from the mint in 1864 while Abraham Lincoln was president.

22 'FRESH AIR' KIDDIES ARRIVE HERE ON FRIDAY

Twenty-two "Fresh Air" youngsters from New York city arrived here Friday afternoon to begin two weeks' vacations with countians on farms and homes throughout the county.

It was a renewal of old friendships for some of the youngsters, who came back for "repeat engagements" with the countians with whom they stayed last summer and who asked that the same children be sent to stay with them again.

For one youngster, it marked the third year that he has left New York to spend his summer vacation in Adams county. Twelve year old Robert Whalen came back for the third year to visit with Mrs. Louise Hoffman, of Gettysburg R. 5.

Aged Five Years And Up

With ages ranging down to five years, the youngsters, selected through the New York Herald Tribune "Friendly town" program, seemed happy to be out of the city and eager to spend their time here. They greeted their hosts and hostesses for the two week period with friendliness and most immediately began to look over Gettysburg, from the vantage point of the Hotel Gettysburg where the hosts had gathered.

They arrived at Harrisburg at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon and arrived here from 5 o'clock to 5:30, after having been engaged in drinking a few soft drinks and tasting Pennsylvania ice cream en route.

Mrs. Raymond P. Sheely, Mrs. Wilmer E. Roth, Mrs. John D. Teeter, Mrs. Charles A. Sloat and Mrs. Robert Derek provided the cars for the trip from Harrisburg.

Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, member of the committee and acting as chairman in the absence of Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, telephoned the New York Herald Tribune this morning to ascertain why three girls, who had been offered vacations here, did not arrive.

Mrs. Scharf was told that the demand for girls this year for the summer vacations was so great that it was impossible to fill all the requests.

Most To Leave August 19
The youngsters, for the most part, will return in two weeks but not two boys, Richard Lowe and Ronald Lowe, who are spending another season with the same hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hare, Fairfield R. 1, and will stay for a month.

The others will leave from Harrisburg at 7:45 o'clock on the morning of August 19.

The hosts and the youngsters staying with them include: Mrs. Timothy E. Farrell, Gettysburg R. 1, Elba Salos; Ellis G. Starnes, Gettysburg R. 5, Arlene Coolidge; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Straile, Littlestown R. 2, Laurence Daw and Harold Bliven; Mrs. Hobbs Crouse, Gettysburg R. 1, Wilda Class and Larry Sather; (Please Turn to Page 2)

More Than 200 Reported Killed In Quakes In Ecuador

Quito, Ecuador, Aug. 6 (P)—Rescue parties reported today that more than 200 persons were killed in a series of sharp earthquakes that shattered at least a dozen populous mountain cities and towns yesterday afternoon.

Ambato, a provincial capital of 50,000 population 55 miles south of Quito, reported 200 dead in the one city. Scattered reports from other areas cut off by wrecked bridges and telephone lines indicated the death toll would rise much higher.

Centuries-old cathedral towers were shaken down, a military barracks collapsed on conscripts and in one area a train was derailed.

An eyewitness broadcasting from Ambato said many of the dead were children who were studying their catechism in the cathedral when the quake knocked over the stone structure.

The Quito observatory said the earthquake's destruction was centered about 60 miles south of Quito, high in the Andes mountains Guaya-

CALLS "PAPER" AN ADMISSION OF U. S. FAILURE

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—Congress found itself about as divided as China today on what to do about stopping the advance of Communism in Asia.

The State Department's White Paper explaining why Chiang Kai-shek's government failed to keep the Communists from gobbling up most of China was greeted on Capitol Hill by a volley of criticism from lawmakers who called it a confession of American failure also.

It was defended, on the other hand, as a realistic review of a situation which just about everybody here agrees is bad.

Among the members of Congress there was a meeting of minds on one point—something ought to be done to keep all of China from being overrun by supporters of the Red banner, who might then threaten China's neighbors.

Differ On Program
But there was no agreement on a program.

Senator Bridges (R-N.H.), long-time critic of the administration's policies toward Asia, offered a three-point program.

"1. Put the Nationalist government on the back instead of kicking it in the face; 2. Give assurance that this country doesn't intend to recognize the Communist government of China; 3. Furnish small arms and ammunition to the anti-Communist forces still willing to fight."

Senator Magnuson (D-Wash.), a member of the armed services committee, said a great deal still can be done to keep Western China out of Communist hands.

He suggested that if some of the personalities could be eliminated from the Nationalist government it could serve as a framework to unify a fight against the Communists. There was no doubt he was suggesting that Chiang Kai-shek—severely criticized in the State Department report—make his exit.

Scolds Department
Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) scolded the department for what he said was an effort stretching over a period of years to force Chiang's government to take in Communists.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) said that if the White Paper policies are continued "it will be only a short time until all Asia is under Communist control, which will extend to Japan and the Philippines."

Even Senator Dulles (R-N.Y.), who cooperates with the administration on bi-partisan foreign policies, looked upon the White Paper as "an attempt to explain and excuse past failures."

"The American people are not interested in that," he said. "They want future success in stopping Communism in Asia. Fortunately, the State Department is seeking a new policy and I very much hope it succeeds."

The crash of splintering woodwork echoed through the empty warehouse above. The momentary drumming of feet across the floor ended abruptly in a fusillade of shots. The quiet that followed was a prelude to disaster for the men listening below.

The noise of movement overhead was louder now. In a matter of seconds, the police would find the steel-reinforced door at the top of the stairs. Once they got through that, it would be every man for himself. Instantly, the men were galvanized into action. Pulling the heavy press aside, they began to pry open a section of the floor boards, to disclose a large cavity. Into this went copperplugs, negatives, filters, and the various chemicals needed to make currency without the benefit of the supervision of the United States Treasury.

"It won't take 'em long to find it, if they really tear the joint apart, but maybe we can keep 'em occupied with other things for a while. Get the light out, Joel!" a voice ordered.

The heavy darkness heightened the tension. The door was slowly giving away. Haid Scott began to move forward. With a groaning snap the door burst open.

For a moment, they were blinded by a powerful flashlight from the top of the stairs. Faintly, they made out the surge of blue-clad forms through the door. Then bedlam broke loose. A slug shattered the light and hit the man behind it. The police were apparently having trouble getting around the fallen man, for they stopped shooting. The one named Joe edged toward the stairs, and from a new vantage point began to throw a rapid fire. In spite of the hail of bullets against them, sheer weight of numbers on the part of the police was beginning to tell. A muffled curse, ending in a gasp, indicated that one of the counterfeiter's near Haid had been hit.

The shooting became spasmodic, finally stopped. "O.K. boys—show's over," a voice called. At the same time, a brilliant light flooded the room.

"Two stiff back there, Captain," one of the patrolmen pointed out.

A third policeman, holding a riot gun, motioned Haid to join the others.

"All right! Up with you!" He indicated the stairs. "You, O'Mally, watch him. This bird will have some interesting talking to do."

As Haid stumbled up the stairs, his mind was racing over the possibilities of a getaway. If it was to work at all, it would have to be as they were cutting through the warehouse to the loading door, where the police had forced an entrance.

He turned his head slightly to see if anyone else had come up the stairs. Only the faint sound of voices came up to him from below. The Patrolman who had accompanied the three other men was out of sight.

The Elks defeated the G. L. Bream garage Friday evening, 7 to 6 at Recreation park, handing the community softball league leading garage their second loss in 21 games played so far this season. The only other team able to knock off the loop-leaders previously was the VFW.

Seven runs in the third inning gave the Elks their victory, in a game that, with the exception of the third and fourth innings was scoreless. The Breams got two runs in the second and then during the third, when it seemed that both sides were able to play better offense than defensive ball, the league leaders secured four runs. But their six tallies were not enough and both sides thereafter bore down to keep any runners from crossing home plate.

In other games the Moose eked out a 4 to 3 victory over the Cola Rangers and Texas Lunch handed Lentz Legion a 12 to 1 set-back. The defeat for the Lentz Legion was in a way the second one it sustained during the course of the evening. The board of arbitration called to settle a protest made by the Lentz Legionnaires in their game with the Moose, decided that all was proper in the game and disallowed the protest, deciding in favor of the Moose.

that will total close to $5,000.
The board was told by C. A. Cluck, chairman of its building committee, that the general contractor, plumbers and electricians are at work on the old jail building which is to be in use as the library by October 1.

The board approved a suggestion by Mr. Cluck that a private office be constructed in a part of what was formerly the jail kitchen and that permanent shelving be built with the understanding that shelving now in use on Carlisle street be utilized in a stack room or other book storage place.

Invite Commissioner

The report for the personnel committee was given by Mrs. Lester O. Johnson who read a letter from Raymond G. Mowery, Franklin library board chairman, asking that the joint librarian arrangement be continued for another year.

The board adopted a motion suggesting to the county commissioners that they name one of their members or their chief clerk as a member of the library board to fill a vacancy in one county-appointed seat on the board.

The treasurer's report showed that

YANKS, BOSTON AND INDIANS ON WINNERS' LIST

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Jack Kramer's return to 1948 form with a six-hit shutout for Boston may be the most important development in the American league race since Joe DiMaggio rejoined the New York Yankees.

Failure of Handsome Jack to measure up to his brilliant 18-5 record of last year almost ruined the Red Sox in early season. Kramer lost six in a row until he finally broke the streak with relief help, July 24.

When Kramer cooled off the Tigers, 9-0, he became the sixth straight Boston starter to go the route. Manager Joe McCarthy now has gone through his entire regular staff of Maurice McDermott, Mel Parnell, Chuck Stobbs, Ellis Kinder, Joe Dobson and Kramer without calling on the bullpen. In fact he has relieved in only two of the last 12 games.

Yanks Take Browns

Just as DiMaggio's return bolstered the league-leading Yanks in late June, Kramer could make the difference between a pennant and an also ran to the Red Sox. Dom DiMaggio contributed his bit with a double, hitting in his 32nd straight game. Vern Stephens bashed his 26th homer.

Arrival of the St. Louis Browns proved to be just the tonic the faltering Yanks needed. Casey Stengel's gang broke loose with their rough batting attack in weeks, sweeping a doubleheader, 10-2 and 10-5.

They backed up Ed Lopat's efficient pitching with a 13-hit outburst that included homers by Tommy Henrich and Joe DiMaggio in the opener. It was Lopat's 10th victory.

Indians Beat A's

Rookie Duane Pillette finally hung up his first big league victory with relief help from Joe Page who pitched the last four innings of the second game. The attack included Charley Keller's second homer and Yogi Berra's 14th, with the bases loaded.

Although Cleveland whipped Philadelphia, 3-2, in a night game, the Tribe dropped back three full games behind the Yanks. Boston is 5 1/2 off the pace. The Indians cashed in four infield errors for two unearned runs as Mike Garcia with help from Al Benton bested Alex Kellner.

Mickey Haefner, fired by Washington for "indifferent performance" a month ago, returned with the Chicago White Sox to whip the Senators, 4-1, his first win in his new uniform. The little lefty went all the way, allowing only seven hits.

Luke Appling, Sox vet, tied Rabbit Maranville's major league record by playing shortstop in 2,153 games.

Cards Edge Giants

Gerry (The Giant Killer) Staley, who holds four decisions over the New York Giants, kept St. Louis in the National league lead with a 1-0 verdict over Leo Duracher's Giants. Marty Marion drove home Stan Musial with the only run off Monte Kennedy in the sixth. It was Staley's seventh victory. Giant pitching has yielded a total of only six runs in their last seven games.

Brooklyn remained a half game behind the Red Birds with a 6-4 edge over Cincinnati, their sixth straight. A three-run outburst in the fifth broke a 2-2 tie and fractured Cincinnati's four-game winning string. Jackie Robinson's double drove home two big runs off Howie Fox. He scored the third.

Shortstop Granny Hamner's error, permitting Ralph Kiner to score in the last of the ninth, enabled Pittsburgh to squeeze past Philadelphia, 1-0, in a tight duel between Bill Werle and Schoolboy Rowe. Each allowed five hits.

The Boston Braves, gradually drifting out of the National league race, were given another shove by the last-place Chicago Cubs who battered Warren Spahn and three successors for 15 hits and an 8-3 edge. Hank Sauer's 23rd homer was included in the barrage. Jeff Heath hit a two-run homer as the Braves knocked out Doyle Lade in the first inning.

The library made its first $90 quarterly payment on the principal of its $9,000 bank loan used to buy the jail property. Monthly bills totaling $778 were approved. The report showed a balance of $1,870 in the bank as of July 30; $450 in the bookmobile replacement fund and $2,658 in the savings account which includes life memberships and the building fund.

Twelve Directors Attend

The receipt of one $437.50 payment from the Gettysburg Community Chest was shown in the treasurer's report for the last month.

With schools closed circulation for the month of July totaled 1,947 loans with 1,285 made through the main library and 638 through the branches.

The board president, Mrs. E. S. Lewars, presided at the meeting attended by these directors: Harry E. Brown, Fairfield; W. W. Eisenhart, Abbottstown; Mrs. Joseph Riden, Abbottstown; G. E. R. Smith, Orantanna; Mrs. L. O. Johnson, Gettysburg; Clyde McCauslin, Aspers; the Rev. Nevin Frantz, Arendtsville; C. A. Cluck, McKnightstown; D. E. Winebrenner, New Oxford; William M. Lott, Gardners R. D.; and O. H. Benson, Gettysburg. R. D. Miss Faran served as secretary.

Woodcock Hurt In Crash; Fight Off

London, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Bruce Woodcock-Lee Savold fight September 6 for the British version of the world heavyweight boxing title was postponed Friday.

Injuries Woodcock suffered Thursday when his truck left the road near Doncaster were given as the reason.

A new date for the fight will be announced Monday.

An announcement from the Doncaster Royal Infirmary said the British heavyweight champion had a severely bruised shoulder, but that there were no broken bones or internal injuries. His truck struck a tree.

MANGRUM HAS GOOD 1ST ROUND

Chicago, Aug. 6 (AP)—Leading money-winner Sammy Sneed and National Open champion Cary Middlecoff today set chase after Lloyd Mangrum, the $20,000 All-American golf tournament.

Mangrum whacked an eight-under-par 64 yesterday as some 200 pro, amateur and feminine golfers touched off the three-in-one, 72-hole All-American event. That gave Lucative Lloyd a two-stroke lead over half the field.

Topped by Sneed and Middlecoff, another 200 shooters in the three divisions will complete first-round competition today. Tomorrow a well-trimmed contingent—125 pros, 40 amateurs and 30 women—will shove off in the second 18-hole round.

Mangrum demonstrated yesterday that he has lost none of the golden touch that gave him some $22,000 in last year's Tam O'Shanter tournament.

His staccato shooting of two eagles and five birdies in a 32-32 round over Tam's par 36-36-72 course was only one stroke behind the record 63 he fired last year.

Mangrum is defending champion, not only in the All-American which pays off $3,333 to the winner, but also in the $35,200 "world championship" of golf which moves onto the Tam scene next Thursday and has a top $10,000 individual jackpot.

Sports Roundup

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 6 (AP)

Ohio points with pride to her parade of presidents (seven of 'em), but the Buckeye brood of athletic greats is an imposing one, too.

Six of us were sitting around yesterday, digging out of misty memories some of the Ohio stars who had left a lasting mark or written colorful chapters in America's sports saga.

Names popped up from everywhere—some current and some from the shrouded past — and as we jotted 'em down we thought it might be a good idea to challenge any and all of the other 47 states to try to match the long list.

We didn't confine our choices to great performers on the fields, but included the outstanding officials and administrators. Practically all were born in Ohio, but one or two were transplanted here and hit the heights on Ohio soil.

Here's a quick look at some of the Buckeye boys:

Baseball—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis of Seven Mile; Denton True (Cy) Young of Peoli; Branch Rickey of Duck Run; George M. Trautman of Bucyrus; Tris Speaker, transplanted from Texas, now of Cleveland; Billy Southworth of Sunbury; Ban Johnson, George Sisler, Bobby Quinn, E. S. Barnard, Hank Gowdy, Miller Huggins, Nick Altrock, Garry Herrmann, Kip Selbach, Nap Lajoie, Burleigh Grimes, Tommy Henrich, Jesse Haines, Frank Lane, Steve O'Neill, Charlie Root, Roger Bresnahan, Burt Shotton.

Football—Chick Harley, Ohio State's all-time All-American nominee; Jack Cannon, Notre Dame's ditto; Joe Carry, first proxy of National league; Coach Paul Brown of Cleveland Browns; Wes Fesler, two-time All-American; L. W. St. John, Ohio State's ex-athletic chief; Don Miller and Harry Stuhldreher, half of the Four Horsemen; Tom Hamilton, Bob Chappuis, Les Horvath, Pete Stinchcomb, Cliff Battles, Benny Friedman, Lew Hinchman, Frank Sinkwich.

Boxing—Johnny Kilbane, Jim Jeffries, Exzard Charles; track—Jesse Owens, Harrison Dillard and George Simpson; auto racing—Eddie Rickbacher and Mauri Rose; horse racing—Eddie Arco and Warren Wright; harness racing—Pop Ceers and Dr. Hugh M. Marshall.

Golf—Denny Shute, Billy Burke, Frank Stranahan, and Sylvanus P. Germaine, the latter the founder of public links golf in America.

Basketball—Johnny Miner, Jimmy Hull and Alex Groza.

Diving—Jimmy Patterson and Coach Mike Peppe.

Trapshooting—Charles (Sparrow) Young and Joe Hiestand.

And the queen of all the dead-eye Doras—Annie Oakley.

That's just part of the list!

If there are any challengers we'll run in the reserves.

Cerdan-Lamotta Fight On Sept. 28

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—Marcel

Cerdan of France will get his chance to win back the world middleweight title from Jake LaMotta on September 28 at the Polo Grounds.

The International Boxing club made the announcement yesterday that the champion from the Bronx, who took the title from Cerdan by a knockout last June 16 at Detroit, will defend his crown at the home of the New York Giants.

Cerdan is expected to return here August 19 to train at Loch Sheldrake, N. Y.

The Frenchman injured his shoulder in the June fight, but reports from abroad say that ailment has entirely disappeared.

CALLS "PAPER" AN ADMISSION OF U. S. FAILURE

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—Congress found itself about as divided as China today on what to do about stopping the advance of Communism in Asia.

The State Department's White Paper explaining why Chiang Kai-shek's government failed to keep the Communists from gobbling up most of China was greeted on Capitol Hill by a volley of criticism from lawmakers who called it a confession of American failure also.

It was defended, on the other hand, as a realistic review of a situation which just about everybody here agrees is bad.

Among the members of Congress there was a meeting of minds on one point—something ought to be done to keep all of China from being overrun by supporters of the Red banner, who might then threaten China's neighbors.

Differ On Program
But there was no agreement on a program.

Senator Bridges (R-N. H.), longtime critic of the administration's policies toward Asia, offered a three-point program.

"1. Put the Nationalist government on the back instead of kicking it in the face; 2. Give assurance that this country doesn't intend to recognize the Communist government of China; 3. Furnish small arms and ammunition to the anti-Communist forces still willing to fight."

Senator Magnuson (D-Wash.), a member of the armed services committee, said a great deal still can be done to keep Western China out of Communist hands.

He suggested that if some of the personalities could be eliminated from the Nationalist government it could serve as a framework to unify a fight against the Communists. There was no doubt he was suggesting that Chiang Kai-shek—severely criticized in the State Department report—make his exit.

Scolds Department
Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) scolded the department for what he said was an effort stretching over a period of years to force Chiang's government to take in Communists.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) said that if the White Paper policies are continued "it will be only a short time until all Asia is under Communist control, which will extend to Japan and the Philippines."

Even Senator Dulles (R-N. Y.), who cooperates with the administration on bi-partisan foreign policies, looked upon the White Paper as "an attempt to explain and excuse past failures."

"The American people are not interested in that," he said. "They want future success in stopping Communism in Asia. Fortunately, the State Department is seeking a new policy and I very much hope it succeeds."

Chapter 1
The crash of splintering woodwork echoed through the empty warehouse above. The momentary drumming of feet across the floor ended abruptly in a fusillade of shots. The quiet that followed was a prelude to disaster for the men listening below.

The noise of movement overhead was louder now. In a matter of seconds, the police would find the steel-reinforced door at the top of the stairs. Once they got through that, it would be every man for himself. Instantly, the men were galvanized into action. Pulling the heavy press aside, they began to pry open a section of the floor boards, to disclose a large cavity. Into this went copper-pieces, negatives, filters, and the various chemicals needed to make currency without the benefit of the supervision of the United States Treasury.

"It won't take 'em long to find it, if they really tear the joint apart, but maybe we can keep 'em occupied with other things for a while. Get the light out, Joel!" a voice ordered.

The heavy darkness heightened the tension.

The door was slowly giving away. Haid Scott began to move forward. With a groaning snap the door burst open.

For a moment, they were blinded by a powerful flashlight from the top of the stairs. Faintly, they made out the surge of blue-clad forms through the door. Then bedlam broke loose. A slug shattered the light and hit the man behind it. The police were apparently having trouble getting around the fallen man, for they stopped shooting. The one named Joe edged toward the stairs, and from a new vantage point began to throw a rapid fire. In spite of the hail of bullets against them, sheer weight of numbers on the part of the police was beginning to tell. A muffled curse, ending in a gasp, indicated that one of the counterfeiter's near Haid had been hit.

The shooting became spasmodic, finally stopped.

"O.K. boys—show's over," a voice called. At the same time, a brilliant light flooded the room.

"Two stuffs back there, Captain," one of the patrolmen pointed out.

A third policeman, holding a riot gun, motioned Haid to join the others.

"All right! Up with you!" He indicated the stairs. "You, O'Mally, watch him. This bird will have some interesting talking to do."

As Haid stumbled up the stairs, his mind was racing over the possibilities of a getaway. If it was to work at all, it would have to be to work by cutting through the warehouse to the loading door, where the police had forced an entrance.

He turned his head slightly to see if anyone else had come up the stairs. Only the faint sound of voices came up to him from below. The Patrolman who had accompanied the three other men was out of sight.

Hawaii Will Operate Docks

Honolulu, Aug. 6 (AP)—Hawaii's Legislature today passed a bill empowering the territorial government to seize the islands' strikebound docks. Earlier, striking CIO stevedores voted unanimously to refuse to work for the government.

Final passage of the legislation designed to end the 98-day waterfront tieup came at 2:40 a. m. (7:40 a. m. E.S.T.) in the 10th day of a special session called by Gov. Ingram M. Stainback.

Late last night Senate and House conferees agreed on the measure which directs the governor to take over the islands' seven struck stevedoring firms. It also calls for hiring, as far as possible, the 2,000 striking members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union at the pre-strike $1.40 hourly wage.

Friday

Elks vs. Texas Lunch.

The Elks defeated the G. L. Bream garage Friday evening, 7 to 6 at Recreation park, handing the community softball league leading garage their second loss in 21 games played so far this season. The only other team able to knock off the loop-leaders previously was the VFV.

Seven runs in the third inning gave the Elks their victory, in a game that, with the exception of the third and fourth innings was scoreless. The Breamites got two runs in the second and then during the third, when it seemed that both sides were able to play better offense than defensive ball, the league leaders secured four runs. But their six tallies were not enough and both sides thereafter bore down to keep any runners from crossing home plate.

In other games the Moose eked out a 4 to 3 victory over the Cola Rangers and Texas Lunch handed Lentz Legion a 12 to 1 set-back. The defeat for the Lentz Legion was in a way the second one it sustained during the course of the evening. The board of arbitration called to settle a protest made by the Lentz Legionnaires in their game with the Moose, decided that all was proper in the game and disallowed the protest, deciding in favor of the Moose.

that will total close to $5,000.
The board was told by C. A. Cluck, chairman of its building committee, that the general contractor, plumbers and electricians are at work on the old jail building which is to be in use as the library by October 1.

The board approved a suggestion by Mr. Cluck that a private office be constructed in a part of what was formerly the jail kitchen and that permanent shelving be built with the understanding that shelving now in use on Carlisle street be utilized in a stack room or other book storage place.

Invite Commissioner
The report for the personnel committee was given by Mrs. Lester O. Johnson who read a letter from Raymond G. Mowery, Franklin library board chairman, asking that the joint librarian arrangement be continued for another year.

The board adopted a motion suggesting to the county commissioners that they name one of their members or their chief clerk as a member of the library board to fill a vacancy in one county-appointed seat on the board.

The treasurer's report showed that the library made its first $90 quarterly payment on the principal of its $9,000 bank loan used to buy the jail property. Monthly bills totaling $778 were approved. The report showed a balance of $1,870 in the bank as of July 30; $450 in the bookmobile replacement fund and $2,658 in the savings account which includes life memberships and the building fund.

YANKS, BOSTON AND INDIANS ON WINNERS' LIST
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Jack Kramer's return to 1948 form with a six-hit shutout for Boston may be the most important development in the American league race since Joe DiMaggio rejoined the New York Yankees.

Failure of Handsome Jack to measure up to his brilliant 18-5 record of last year almost ruined the Red Sox in early season. Kramer lost six in a row until he finally broke the streak with relief help, July 24.

When Kramer cooled off the Tigers, 9-0, he became the sixth straight Boston starter to go the route. Manager Joe McCarthy now has gone through his entire regular staff of Maurice McDermott, Mel Parnell, Chuck Stobbs, Ellis Kinder, Joe Dobson and Kramer without calling on the bullpen. In fact he has relieved in only two of the last 12 games.

Yanks Take Browns
Just as DiMaggio's return bolstered the league-leading Yanks in late June, Kramer could make the difference between a pennant and an also ran to the Red Sox. Dom DiMaggio contributed his bit with a double, hitting in his 32nd straight game. Vern Stephens bashed his 26th homer.

MANGRUM HAS GOOD 1ST ROUND

Chicago, Aug. 6 (AP)—Leading money-winner Sammy Sneed and National Open champion Cary Middlecoff today set chase after Lloyd Mangrum, the Midas of Tam O'Shanter, in the $20,000 All-American golf tournament.

Mangrum whacked an eight-under-par 64 yesterday as some 200 pro, amateur and feminine golfers touched off the three-in-one, 72-hole All-American event. That gave Lucrative Lloyd a two-stroke lead over half the field.

Topped by Sneed and Middlecoff, another 203 shooters in the three divisions will complete first-round competition today. Tomorrow a well-trimmed contingent—125 pros, 40 amateurs and 30 women—will shove off in the second 18-hole round.

Mangrum demonstrated yesterday that he has lost none of the golden touch that gave him some $22,000 in last year's Tam O'Shanter tournament.

His staccato shooting of two eagles and five birdies in a 32-32 round over Tam's par 36-36—72 course was only one stroke behind the record 63 he fired last year.

Mangrum is defending champion, not only in the All-American which pays off $3,333 to the winner, but also in the $35,200 "world championship of golf" which moves onto the Tam scene next Thursday and has a top $10,000 individual jackpot.

Sports Roundup

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 6 (AP)—Ohio points with pride to her parade of presidents (seven of 'em), but the Buckeye brood of athletic greats is an imposing one, too.

Six of us were sitting around yesterday, digging out of misty memories some of the Ohio stars who had left a lasting mark or written colorful chapters in America's sports saga.

Names popped up from everywhere—some current and some from the shrouded past—and as we jotted 'em down we thought it might be a good idea to challenge any and all of the other 47 states to try to match the long list.

We didn't confine our choices to great performers on the fields, but included the outstanding officials and administrators. Practically all were born in Ohio, but one or two were transplanted here and hit the heights on Ohio soil.

Here's a quick look at some of the Buckeye boys:

Baseball—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis of Seven Mile; Denton True (Cy) Young of Peoli; Branch Rickey of Duck Run; George M. Trautman of Bucyrus; Tris Speaker, transplanted from Texas, now of Cleveland; Billy Southworth of Sunbury; Ban Johnson, George Sisler, Bobby Quinn, E. S. Barnard, Hank Gowdy, Miller Huggins, Nick Altrock, Garry Herrmann, Kip Selbach, Nap Lajoie, Burleigh Grimes, Tommy Henrich, Jesse Haines, Frank Lane, Steve O'Neill, Charlie Root, Roger Bresnahan, Burt Shotton.

Football—Chick Harley, Ohio State's all-time All-America nominee; Jack Cannon, Notre Dame's ditto; Joe Carry, first prexy of National league; Coach Paul Brown of Cleveland Browns; Wes Fesler, two-time All-America; L. W. St. John, Ohio State's ex-athletic chief; Don Miller and Harry Stuhldreher, half of the Four Horsemen; Tom Hamilton, Bob Chappius, Les Horvath, Pete Stinchcomb, Cliff Battles, Benny Friedman, Lew Hinchman, Frank Sinkwich.

Boxing—Johnny Kilbane, Jim Jeffries, Ezzard Charles; track—Jesse Owens, Harrison Dillard and George Simpson; auto racing—Eddie Rickenbacker and Mauri Rose; horse racing—Eddie Arcaro and Warren Wright; harness racing—Pop Ceers and Dr. Hugh M. Marshall.

Golf—Denny Shute, Billy Burke, Frank Stranahan, and Sylvanus P. Germaine, the latter the founder of public links golf in America.

Basketball—Johnny Miner, Jimmy Hull and Alex Groza.

Diving—Jimmy Patterson and Coach Mike Peppe.

Trapshooting—Charles (Sparrow) Young and Joe Hiestand.

And the queen of all the dead-eye Doras—Annie Oakley.

That's just part of the list! If there are any challengers we'll run in the reserves.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ONE WITH ALL

I wonder how long it is going to take the human race to realize that it is one of a piece, itself, nature, and God. Why can't there be harmony and co-operation? One person in a family out of step makes all the difference. This is as true with those in a community, or those who rule a state.

If the world would go ahead as a team, we could forget all about arming for wholesale killing of those who should be our brethren in more ways than one. War is the most brutal, unintelligent procedure that man has ever engaged in. Excepting where war was initiated for the purpose of freedom from injustice and slavery, it has always been a thing of huge waste and tragic aftermaths.

There is neither rhyme nor reason to religious or race prejudice, nor to intolerance in any form — yet it goes on. We are each one with all, in an endless number of ways. We were put into this world to help one another. There is not a single one of us who is exactly like another. There was a purpose that the Creator had in mind when he thus created us. If we had all been alike we would all have wanted the same thing at the same time! And there would have been no initiative within anyone.

The fact that each one of us is different in physical and mental equipment should inspire harmony and co-operation, and not strife. All strife is destructive. There is room enough, food enough, and work enough, for all on this globe, if every human being could only seek to be useful, try to be helpful to those less fortunate — and remember that he is one with all.

There is a loss to us all when a useful and beloved man or woman dies. Something in us dies as well. But there is still the glow of that life that remains to example each one of us to better service while yet our time remains.

We should look more and more into the heart of Nature, for her lessons and instructions. The Creator made it mystical and amazing, so as to arrest our attention and study. Every living thing there has a voice. Even the tiniest wild flower. I ran into a brood of tiny Sandpipers along the shore of my island today. The anxiety of the mother bird taught me to molest no one of them to their sorrow.

SECURITY

If we were never forced to choose
From right and wrong, and wrong refuse;

If good so well established were
That none of us could ever err;
Secure were every cliff and brink,
Life would be deadly dull, I think.

If none of us could miss the way
And never take one step astray;
If hopes were sure and year by year
To us came neither doubt nor fear;
If skies were blue from day to day,
For rain we'd soon begin to pray.

Success is mastery of defeat.

'Tis care that makes a pleasure sweet.

The joy of everything in life
Is born of stress and strain and strife.

Pride is the prize for having met
With courage all that made us fret.

KOREA POSSIBLE SITE FOR START OF WORLD WAR III

By JAMES D. WHITE

(AP Foreign News Analyst)

Korea this week upheld its growing reputation as a likely spot for the birth of World War III.

In southern Korea, officials of the American-sponsored government reached the stage of talking openly about invading the Soviet-sponsored north before the north beats them to the punch.

These officials still would not let correspondents attribute such statements to them personally, but AP Correspondent William R. Moore radioed from Seoul:

"Some very significant figures in the . . . government thinks the time must come soon when this infant republic must invade the Communist-ruled north as a self-defense measure."

At War Since May

Moore said moderate Koreans advised against this. But the talk of beating the north to the punch obviously has increased recently. A few months ago in Tokyo, American Army officers back from Korea told me it existed, but was not very open.

Later this week Moore cabled that the northerners had invaded the southern part of the Ongjin peninsula, which is intersected by the 38th parallel that divides Korea into two separate countries. Each is recognized by its respective sponsor in the cold war and by some of each sponsor's allies.

This little war at Ongjin has been going on since late May, when a southern expedition by sea drove the northerners out. The northerners kept coming back, however, and did so in force this week.

The southern chief of staff revealed that this last show of northern force occurred after his troops had occupied two strong points just over the border in the north. He said these were lost in the fighting, which cost about 200 southern lives.

The question of who actually invaded whom may not be as important as this question: Whether the situation that makes invasion attractive to both sides can be ended without a bloody civil war, and whether that could be kept from expanding into something bigger. Russia and America both have vital strategic interest in Korea.

In any case, the renewal of fighting at Ongjin helped to spotlight the meeting scheduled late this week between southern President Syngman Rhee and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of China, to promote a Pacific union against Communism. American help would be asked.

There long seems to have been sentiment in the north to "reunify" Korea (which all Koreans want, one way or another) but to do it by conquering the south. The growth of a rival sentiment in the south has speeded up since the southern army acquired the arms left behind by departing U. S. occupation troops early this summer. Soviet troops reportedly left the north some months earlier, after building and arming a northern Korean army.

CARDINAL AND MRS. FDR ISSUE NEW STATEMENT

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman has issued a new statement on federal aid to education and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who has disagreed with the church leader's stand, termed the message "clarifying and fair."

The statement followed a telephone call from the Cardinal to the wife of the late president. The Cardinal said he acted to clear up "many regrettable misunderstandings" concerning the position of the Roman Catholic church on the issue.

In his statement, issued simultaneously last night with one by Mrs. Roosevelt, the New York Archbishop said his church seeks public funds solely for "auxiliary services" of parochial schools.

"We are not asking for general support of religious schools," he said.

Mrs. Roosevelt, whom the Cardinal had called "anti-Catholic" for her opposition to federal aid to sectarian schools, said the Cardinal had telephoned her and "asked me to go over a statement which he would like to release."

"I have read it," she added, "and think it a clarifying and fair statement."

Both statements were released at the chancery office of the New York archdiocese.

They came two days after Mayor William O'Dwyer had expressed hope the two could get together to reconcile their differences.

The Cardinal said the Catholic church does not expect, nor ask public funds for school construction, maintenance and teaching services.

But he said parochial school children should share with public school children in funds for transportation, school lunches, health programs and non-religious textbooks.

Position Of Church
The Cardinal spoke of "great confusion and the many regrettable misunderstandings and misinterpretations over federal aid to education."

He said he felt it his "duty to state in simple terms the position that Catholics together with many Americans of other religious beliefs are upholding."

Mrs. Roosevelt, declaring anew that she has "no anti-Catholic bias," said:

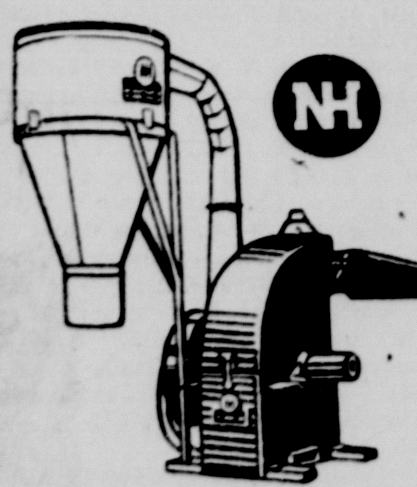

"I am firm in my belief that there shall be no pressure brought to bear by any church against the proper operations of the government and that there shall be recognition of the fact that all citizens may express their views freely on questions of public interest."

Times change but the two most serious night problems for any driver are the headlights of approaching cars.

Motor Fever Takes Times

Overheating has many angles but one that seldom makes the headlines is an element known as the "time factor." Some kinds of overheating require considerable time to develop and it is because of this that so many owners are fooled. One time the engine operates normally, only to go into a fever on another occasion when there is a little more time for the trouble to develop.

Time is required for oil to break down, for instance. As the oil burns off with the passing miles there is less lubricant in the engine and this remainder has more work to do. It thins out and brings on starts to develop within the car's other units such as the clutch or the brakes. A common condition is to have the brakes self-apply because of trouble with the compensating port of the master cylinder.

Higher the Lower

I am a booster for premium fuel and always have been, but an oddity is that because engine compression is lower at high altitudes an engine with a high compression head may operate better on regular gas when high in the mountains. This is assuming its cooling system is in good condition. The ignition timing generally should be advanced a little in high altitudes.

Need Normal Slack

I drove a car the other evening and noticed that the owner had taken the slack out of the steering gear. He liked the way the car was so responsive to the merest movement of the wheel, and was surprised when I failed to show any enthusiasm for the idea.

At high speeds it is always dangerous to be able to cut the wheels too quickly for that might throw the car off balance. Without sufficient play in the steering gear one is constantly "steering." It is also likely that the car will develop the annoying habit of wandering when there isn't enough play. Gears are set up for normal slack and it's unwise to take it out.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Not many owners realize how important parking is in helping the cooling system perform normally. Those angle parkings where the car heads to a curb lower than the center of the street are particularly bad because water surges toward the radiator.

"Abrupt stops are bad for the reason that momentum forces water to the top of the radiator tank where it automatically goes out the overflow. If at all possible always park on level ground and stop the car gently. Some believe it helps a hot motor to accelerate a moment just before switching it off. The theory is that this speeds up circulation and permits the pistons to suck in some mixture which won't be burned."

Discard for Savings

In these days of efficiency it may seem like sheer waste to discard a spark plug that seems serviceable, but this may be economy in the long run. For instance, if there is leakage of gas between the insulator and the steel shell compression, will be lowered and the engine won't fire evenly. Plugs can be of the wrong heat type, and thus wasteful. Much of that pinging which owners blame on gas often is due to pre-ignition from plugs that are too hot for the engine or for the hard way in which the car is being used.

Throwing a Cap

Did you ever have the experience of throwing a modern wheel cover? One came off my car while traveling the other day and rolled a quarter mile before coming to a halt.

Fortunately no one was in its way as it sped along the road, went through an open fence, jumped some rocks and finally came to a stop in brush about 25 feet off the shoulder of the road. Believing that nothing is ever lost in spirit my wife, Kathryn, quickly found the elusive cover even though I had given up hope of finding it. And to top it all the thing was hardly scratched. Apparently it had rolled so fast it fairly skimmed.

Thoughts While Touring

Brakes are apt to "fade" on a hot run, so watch your step when an abrupt stop is required or you are entering city traffic.

If you are puzzled because the route doesn't look at all familiar maybe they have re-marked it, making the one which you formerly used an alternate.

If your new car becomes troublesome on the first trip check for dirt in the fuel line. It's not an uncommon condition.

Thoughts for Safety

Sitting three on a front seat is chummy enough but it isn't really safe unless there is cooperation. I had this brought home to me forcibly the other day when carrying two front seat passengers. Riding through the country suddenly two little girls appeared at the left shoulder of the road not far from where I was rolling along at a good rate of speed. They had been running toward the car, possibly with the thought of getting across in front of it. One of the front seat passengers saw what was happening, reached over and horned for me. That's cooperation. That's safety.

Spoiling the Shift

If you are one of many who are having too much trouble shifting gears this summer perhaps it is just that the transmission has not had the benefit of heavy enough lubricant. One service which lube performs in a transmission is to slow down the gears for easier shifting into low and reverse. Proper lube will aid the other shifts and will also eliminate that sense of the gears being loose. If you have had the gear lube changed and still have clashing and this feeling that the gears are not performing properly it is quite possible that the lube isn't of good quality.

In the Motor Mail

Q. Is it advisable to remove the oil filter cartridge when using sludge remover to clean up the engine?

—H. L. McM.

A. Unless the old cartridge is removed some of the foreign matter that has been trapped out of the oil may be returned to it again. Clean up the motor, then replace with a new cartridge after putting in the fresh oil.

Q. There seems to be a faint clatter in the motor of my car, and it increases in intensity as time goes by. Readjusting tappets doesn't seem to help the situation at all. I use premium gas so don't believe I can be hearing a mild ping.—C. J.

A. This sounds to me like piston pin trouble. Study it carefully, however, as you may have a bad tappet. There are tests which your mechanic can use for checking the pins.

Q. All tests show that there is something leaning out the gas mixture at idling and low speeds, yet there is no leakage around the intake manifold and the carburetor has been carefully rebuilt. Have you any ideas about this?—H. H. F.

A. Yes, some very definite ideas. I believe you will find that the valve guides are badly worn and that air is sucking in around the intake valves.

Q. If I ground off some of the stock of the heads of my engine do you think the increased compression would be likely to break the pistons or loosen the bearings?—Wm. L. K.

A. The pistons would easily survive and I do not believe that with normal use of the car the bearings would suffer, but you'd probably find that the weakened heads would be inclined to warp. That would be plenty of trouble with an engine of the V type.

Q. My car shows a tendency to dart and dive. Do you think this indicates wear on the steering gear?—H. B. B.

A. No. This trouble can be due to such simple causes as inefficient shock absorbers. A bent king pin or spindle will have a similar effect. Of course check front-end alignment carefully, but if everything seems to be in good order then suspect a defective frame or eccentric wheels.

Q. There seems to be something wrong with the brakes for try as I will they start dragging after the car has been in use for awhile. Even new brake shoe return springs have not helped.—L. McB.

A. The trouble here is in the master cylinder. When the pedal is up the piston evidently doesn't return to the off position, thus covering the compensating port and providing no escape for fluid to the reservoir when pressure builds up within the system. The brakes then start to apply themselves. A new master cylinder is the cure.

May Arbitrate Lab Site Dispute

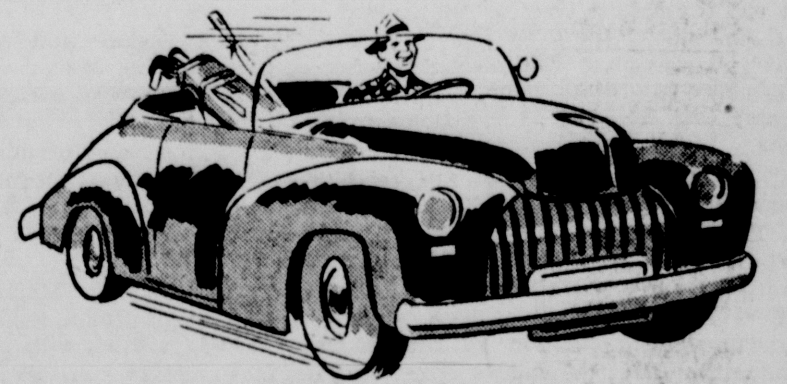

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—The dispute between Pennsylvania and Massachusetts over the site for a Quartermaster Corps research laboratory may be submitted to an arbitration board.

Both states have been seeking to have the proposed $11,000,000 Climatic Research Institute constructed within their borders. The dispute reached an impasse with each state claiming it boasted weather bad enough to provide ideal testing grounds.

Yesterday, a bill to permit the selection of the site by an arbitration board was introduced by Senators Martin (R-Pa.), Myers (D-Pa.), Saitonstall (R-Mass.), Lodge (R-Mass.), Ives (R-N. Y.) and Dulles (R-N. Y.).

Massachusetts authorities have sought to place the laboratory in the Boston area and Pennsylvanians have argued the government could save money by expanding operations at the existing Philadelphia Quartermaster Depot.

YANKEE POLICY IN CHINA STILL HUGE PROBLEM

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—This country doesn't know what to do next. That about the best that can be said of the United States policy toward China now.

The Communists are in control there. This country doesn't like it. But what this country should do about it is something that hasn't been figured out yet. It's up a tree. That's what you have left when you cut through a river of words that came out of the State Department yesterday in a 1,054-page report, called a "white paper," explaining why things went wrong in China.

China Open To Reds
Summed up, the paper says: 1. The Chinese Communists have taken over most of the country and can take over all of it, any time they want to.

2. The only opposition to the Communists—the Nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek—was rotten and it's not worth a dime anymore.

3. This government had helped Chiang's outfit but has washed its hands of the Chiang crew now. And that polishes off the last real block inside China to the Communists.

The white paper says more: We were in there pitching for Chiang, and we poured help into him, but he didn't know what to do with it. He was bullheaded, and he blew the help we gave, and messed up his armies. And instead of reforming his rotten government into one the Chinese people could have faith in and rally round, he let it stay rotten. The government and his armies melted away and the Communists took over.

"Gloomy Picture"
That's a pretty gloomy picture in the white paper, when you remember it's a great boon to Russia to have a Communist China by its side and a great blow to this country since a huge chunk of friendly Asia is lost to us.

In fact, Secretary of State Acheson told a news conference when the white paper was released, the Chinese Communists are Russian stooges, ready to sneeze when Russia feels a draft.

But Acheson tried to throw a cheery note into the China disaster by saying he's not "defeatist" about it at all. Indeed, he went further and said:

The U. S. is willing to help the Chinese people establish true independence. But the $64 question—how—was something he didn't answer.

All he could do was list five principles for this country's attitude toward China. They said, in effect, we'd like to help the Chinese people get rid of Moscow's Chinese lieutenants. And—he said the problem of how to do it is being studied.

QUARANTINE AT CAMP DEBATED

Harrisburg, Aug. 6 (AP)—The state Health Department says it is up to local health authorities whether 50 boys vacationing at Camp Shand near Carlisle, now under quarantine until August 17, can return home today.

The camp was scheduled to close today and any boys going home must remain under quarantine in their homes until the 14-day observation period ends. The quarantine was established earlier this week when Herman Tunis, 12, of Kensington, Md., a camper, developed cerebral spinal meningitis. He is in a hospital here.

Informed that Dr. Dale E. Cary, mayor of Lancaster, and Dr. H. K. Hogg, Lancaster medical director, had protested against the return of the boys, Dr. William D. Schrack, Jr., epidemiologist of the Bureau of Health Conservation, said "there must be some misunderstanding."

"The quarantine has not been lifted," he said. "If the boys go home, they must go in a private conveyance and must notify local health authorities as soon as they arrive. They will be just as much in quarantine as if they remained in camp."

However, he added, that before any of the boys return home, local health officials must grant permission. If a permit isn't granted, he said, "they will have to stay" in camp.

tion, the American Bar association, the National association of Small Businessmen, The National Grange, the General Federation of Women's clubs, the National Federation of Small Business, Inc., the American Hospital association, the National D.A.R., the National Fraternal Congress of America, many state legislatures and others have gone on record as unalterably opposed to any form of compulsory health insurance or political medicine designed for bureaucratic control. These people are not necessarily defending American medicine. There is an underlying reason why they have taken such a stand, why they are willing to stand up and be counted among the millions of people who are against the President's ill-conceived health program. They realize that American medicine is the last line of defense. They have seen the trend in Great Britain, Germany and Russia. They know of plans within these great United States to socialize the profession of law, the insurance business, coal and steel and transportation.

Is there anyone reading this article today who would exchange our American system of free enterprise for the chaos which exists in England today as a result of state-ism? James H. McGraw, Jr., president of the McGraw-Hill Publishing company, contends that both the English people and her industries have been so severely taxed to maintain her welfare program that little remains for capital investment or for re-tooling and equipping her industries. British industries today show the results of their failure to keep up to date. An American can produce four times as much pig iron, four times as many tires and in all industries America produces on the average three times as much as the British. The real reason is because Americans have better tools.

The British are struggling with equipment which stems from the beginning of the century. According to Mr. McGraw, this is government planned. When industry through no fault of its own is unable to keep up production because it has not been able to maintain sufficient reserves to keep her equipment in shape, due to excessive taxes, then the government steps in to provide the plants and equipment that it has blocked industry from getting. This very condition exists in England today. There is a bill in the British Parliament which would provide a National Legal Service, similar to their system of socialized medicine, the National Health Service. The steel industry is reportedly next on the list.

As we pointed out in yesterday's article, perhaps we cannot compare conditions in Britain with those which might result in the United States. But we can compare trends. We do know that nothing, not even the government itself, can stop government domination and control once it gets out of hand. When controls fail, more regulations are slapped on to make them work. It is a vicious circle from which we have little hope of escaping if we allow ourselves to be bamboozled into a plan where the people serve the government rather than letting the government serve them.

Invasion Of Privacy
LIFE magazine editorialized on May 2 that "It is not the money, nor any threat of socialization that in the last analysis bothers LIFE. What worries us is the loss of moral power that must come when a people turns more and more to compulsion to solve its problems. Left to their own devices, the U. S. people have shown both ingenuity and ability in meeting their needs through voluntary action. Without state compulsion they have created the best medicine in the world. What is more, they have demonstrated that American capitalism can shape the social instruments necessary to a modern society without relinquishing the freedoms and responsibilities that make it strong."

Two things we would point out to you with regard to the socialization of medicine—or, if you prefer, the inflicting of compulsory sickness insurance upon the people. In the first place we believe the American housewife had her fill of queues for butter, red tokens for meat, rationing and price control during the war. We don't think Americans will be inclined to wait in line to see the doctor, which would be the inevitable result if medical care were "free" and doctors' offices became filled with hypochondriacs suffering imaginary ills. You have a right to good medical care without having to stand in line.

Secondly, it has been revealed recently that in England where a system of compulsory health insurance prevails, personal health records are available to two local committees of lay people. In other words, the private record of your case, with all its details, may be an open record. Imagine the effect of that in a small town—when committees of lay citizens have access to files heretofore kept confidential by your doctor. This invasion of personal privacy is one of the strongest arguments against the trend toward Socialism. Think about it carefully and then ask yourself whether you would submit to a payroll tax in return for such a system.

the Vigilant Fire Company Band of the same city, and the band of the local high school. Practically every kind of popular refreshment was on sale during the three evenings. The women of the fire company's auxiliary prepared the food, much of the material for which was contributed by townspeople and friends. Program, Rules And Officers Of 1949 South Mountain Fair

The 1949 Fair

The South Mountain Community and Fair Association, through its Fair Committee and Officers, is presenting to you of Adams County and Visitors of the Fair this 26th Annual County Show, on the South Mountain Fair Grounds, one mile west of Arendtsville on Route 234 on September 7, 8, 9, and 10, 1949.

The policy of this organization is, and always has been, to have the best Fair possible. We do not have the usual Midways and Carnivals seen at Fairs. Our aim is to create a Fair of high educational value with good, clean entertainment.

The food concessions are locally operated, serving good meals and lunches. The several departments are ably handled and managed by community men. In fact this Fair represents the pooled efforts of many prominent Adams County men and women, who work and serve without pay, to present to you Adams County on Dress Parade.

The exhibits of all departments prove interesting to inspect and are unsurpassed in their efficiency. This year Poultry is returned to the show. A new Art exhibit has been added and a more complete and enlarged Horse Show is planned for Saturday afternoon, bringing to you the best in their line. The Industrial exhibit has been increased to display before you the many manufactured products of Adams County.

The aim of the Association is to encourage folks to participate in friendly competition in the various departments with exhibits. Plan to bring your exhibits from Farm, Garden or Home. The various divisions and their committees are listed herein for your convenience.

The Memorial Auditorium pictured on the front of this program, and the largest building of its type in the County, will house the entertainment for this year's Fair. The talent for the show comes direct from Broadway, New York, and is highly recommended. Two complete shows each day featuring 5 Acts of Vaudeville and the music of a Name Band will be the attraction.

All these good things, and many more, await you at the Fair. The attendance of you as a citizen of Adams County and your friends is needed to support the program. All receipts are used for Premiums and to give you a bigger and better Fair next year. Remember, no cash or other credits are given to the Fair Committees or Families. Then let's all plan now to attend the Fair and make The South Mountain Fair the outstanding Adams County event of the year.

I thank, on behalf of the Association, all who have so graciously contributed in any manner, of their time and means to this occasion.

Sincerely,
ARNOLD E. ORNER, President

COWHAND KILLS RODEO JUDGE, AND STUDENT

Big Springs, Tex., Aug. 6 (AP)—Bullets from a cowhand's sixgun killed a rodeo judge and an onlooking cowboy college student Thursday night.

Herb Frizzell, a Brahma bull rider from Beaumont, near the east Texas line, ignored a rodeo crowd of about 2,500 when he was gunning for Judge Henry Preston (Buck) Jones, about 45, of Ranger.

He cut down Jones with a 38 caliber bullet through the chin. A wild shot killed Carl C. Myers of Abilene, 23, president of the Hardin-Simmons university rodeo association.

Former Howard County Sheriff Jess Slaughter jumped on Frizzell and yanked the pistol out of his hand. A bunch of cowboys dashed up to help Slaughter.

Had Earlier Argument

Sheriff Bob Wolf locked Frizzell in the county jail. Frizzell was charged with murder in both deaths.

Wolf said the shooting ended an argument that had occurred about two hours earlier between Frizzell and Jones.

Jones was standing near a group of cowboys in front of the judge's stand. A dog trainer was working his animals back toward the judge's stand as his act neared its end.

As Jones watched the dogs, Slaughter said, Frizzell walked up to him, stopped about 10 feet away and fired.

Jones fell. Frizzell advanced so that he stood over the rodeo judge's body and fired again. Witnesses disagreed whether one or two more shots were fired.

Frizzell Makes Statement
"When I grabbed Frizzell and took his gun away from him, I saw Carl Myers fall over on the ground," said Slaughter, county juvenile officer.

Sheriff Wolf said Myers was killed by a bullet that hit him in the thigh and ranged upward. Myers was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Wolf said that Frizzell, about 35, made a statement at the jail.

The sheriff said that after Frizzell and Jones argued, the cowboy left the rodeo grounds. He got a gun and crawled over the fence to get to Jones, the sheriff said.

An isolated mast or chimney 150 feet tall is likely to be struck by lightning once a year, on the average, in many parts of the world.

Unemployed Wait
In Vain For Trucks
Philadelphia, Aug. 6 (AP)—Some 300 men waited nine hours outside two state employment offices yesterday for trucks that were to take them to bean picking jobs near Coudersport in Potter county.

The men responded to a state call for workers to pick beans on a large farm near Coudersport.

They were still waiting late last night while employment officials tried frantically to find out what happened to the trucks.

C. P. Taylor, district manager of the state Employment office, said grumbling and "some minor demonstrations" developed among those waiting and police were called to disperse them.
